Local Curlers Participate In FUA Bonsel, Lethbridge

Eleven Vulcan district rinks were entered in the District 12 FUA Curling Bonsel, which ended Feb. 1st in the Lethbridge Civic Ice Centre. Although the number of entries were not as many as anticipated for a successful 'spiel', there being only 26 rinks entered, social end of the 'spiel' was a huge success, with two days of continuous curling, and the evenings free for the fraternizing of the rinks. A social get-together banquet was held Tuesday evening at the Marquis with entertainment provided by the members of the district and Miss Elinor Watson, dancing instructor of Lethbridge.

The committee in charge was grateful for the donation of prizes from the Severyn-Seven Oil Co. Ltd. of Lethbridge, also for the services of George and Robert Wobick, Lethbridge, on the draw.

A smart, modern dining room for full course meals will be opened in a few weeks.

The name of the coffee bar has been changed to "Our Coffee Bar" and it is now open from seven a.m. to eleven p.m. daily. It will continue as a regular rest stop for the Greyhound Bus Lines.

Peter Lundgren Dies Suddenly

A pioneer farmer of the Vulcan district for many years, Peter Eric Lundgren of 243-23rd Ave. N.W., Calgary, died in hospital at Calgary on Wednesday, Feb. 1, following a brief illness. He was 68 years of age.

Born in Bolan, Sweden, he came to North Dakota in 1905. Later he homesteaded at Vulcan, and farmed at Okotoks from 1947 until his retirement to Calgary in 1951.

He is survived by his wife, Ida, of Calgary; one daughter, Mrs. Sidney Freeman, Calgary; a son, Reinhold of Vulcan; five grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. Anna Rolander in Sweden; Mrs. Ralph Smith, Calgary; and Mrs. Jack Hite, Edmonton.

Services were conducted at Jacques Funeral Chapel, Calgary, on Saturday afternoon, Feb. 4, by Rev. W. Ray Ashford. Burial was made in Queen's Park cemetery.

senior choir, on behalf of the choir presented Terrie with a beautifully bound leather hymnary, in appreciation of her many years in church and choir activities. Terrie fittingly thanked her choir friends for their farewell token of remembrance, and the good wishes that accompanied it.

Barry Coleman's Lethbridge Rink Wins Provincial

Barry Coleman, who at the age of 16 led a Vulcan high school rink at the high school curling Dominion finals, has done it again—this time with a rink formed from his classmates at the Lethbridge Collegiate Institute.

In the provincial finals at Calgary last weekend, Coleman's Lethbridge rink took top honors and will represent Alberta in the high school Dominion curling finals at Fort William, February 20-24.

Three years ago, while a student at the Vulcan high school, Coleman skipped a rink composed of himself, Ron Northcott, Warren Banks and Bill Hansell to the provincial high school curling championship and to fourth place in the Dominion championships.

Now 19 years of age, Coleman is getting a second crack at the Dominion championship. Other members of his Lethbridge rink are Frank Boal, 16; Bob Everson, 17; and Scott Henderson, 16.

Vulcan curlers and other friends will be rooting for Barry to take top honors this time.

Will Train As Nurse, Edmonton

Miss Terrie McAfee, who left for Edmonton where she will enter nurses' training at the Royal Alexandra hospital, was honored at a tea at the home of Mrs. W. S. Hill, on Saturday afternoon. Assisting Mrs. Hill as hostess were Mrs. C. Fleming and a number of ladies of the 'U' and 'I' Sewing Circle. A pleasant afternoon was spent and Mrs. Fleming on behalf of the 26 assembled guests presented Terrie with a going-away gift and expressed the sincere good wishes of all for much success and happiness in her work. Terrie very graciously thanked her friends for their kind thoughts and her gifts.

Children's Party Entertains Mothers

The Kindergarten Class on Feb. 1, entertained their mothers and grandmothers with a short program closing their unit on Indians. Each child wore Indian garments and headresses made by himself and during special songs beat on the drum and shook rattles which he had made. Two girls, who had each made her doll look like a papoose, during one of the songs sat in front of a wigwam designed by the children. Mrs. E. G. Hansell accompanied the children at the piano.

The children collected some clothing to be sent to Indian children in Manitoba. Following the program, tea was served in the basement.

Four Groups Represented

Women's Conference Held At Vulcan Church of Christ

A women's conference, sponsored by the Vulcan Candlelight Circle, was held Friday, February 3, at the Vulcan Church of Christ, with women from the churches of Christ in Taber, Nanton, Calgary and Vulcan participating.

Following a lively morning song service led by Mrs. Merle Zimmerman of Nanton, accompanied by Mrs. E. G. Hansell, Mrs. Calvin Hollister, president of the Candlelight, welcomed the visitors for the day of fellowship.

Preceding a duet sang by Mrs. Ivan Haga and Mrs. Gordon Gardner, Mrs. Lawrence Orchard read passages from the 95th and 96th chapters of Psalms. Mrs. Wismer brought the morning devotion from the story of Samuel's mother.

During the noon luncheon Miss Nettle Ware entertained the ladies with her humorous readings.

Miss Anne Chapman, following a song service led by Mrs. Ed Benoit of Calgary, accompanied by Mrs. K. Dildier of Parkland, and scripture read by Mrs. Stan Wickstrom, spoke on the importance of assembling together upon God's divinely appointed day for worship.

Mrs. R. L. Rash of Taber brought a report and slides of the mission work in Kulpahar, India, where her son Tom and his co-workers serve. Mrs. Rash also displayed objects from India.

Mrs. J. R. Chapman represented the Jamaica work of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Edwards, bringing up-to-date news and presenting a few of the slides which she took while visiting on the island two years ago.

Mrs. Ed Benoit of Calgary introduced the Ralph Whitworth work in Saskatchewan and presented slides of their summer camp and scenery around Big River.

A 'buzz session' on the topic "Workable Suggestions for Better Local Meetings" was held prior to the afternoon tea.

The evening song service led by Miss Marilyn Dunn of Yellow Grass, Sask., a student of the Alberta Bible College, accompanied by Mrs. Melvin L. Breakenridge of Calgary.

Miss Nettle Ware presented a religious reading. Special music was brought by Miss Aileen Case, soloist, from Winnipeg, Manitoba, now a student of the Alberta Bible College, and a girls' sextet also from the college. Following a scripture read by Mrs. Ben Dann, Mrs. Ed Benoit of Calgary brought a short message upon the importance of parents beginning religious training to their children very early in life.

She used Timothy's mother and grandmother as examples for modern day mothers and grandmothers.

A film, This Way to Heaven, climaxed the activities of the day, presenting a touching, dramatic story of how an entire family was brought into the fuller life of the church through a little child entering the Sunday School. A new family in the neighborhood, with their home life full of tensions, had never taken time to take their children to the church or to teach them truths from the Bible. Strolling to the church on Sunday the littlest boy asked, "Is this the way to Heaven?" Soon the two children were regular in Sunday School and through the improvement of their conduct, especially that of honesty, their parents saw their need for Christian worship also.

The Work Week

Despite the apparent advantages of the welfare state, which the so-called progressives are always bragging about; the 44-hour week, then the 40-hour week, and according to Labor Leader Walter Reuther's prediction that in ten years time we will be working just four days a week, or 32 hours, we cannot see that people as a whole would be any happier if they have to find some way of utilizing the leisure time. Take 32 hours out of a seven-day week and you have 186 hours in which to play, sleep or do anything you like. A lovely prospect, indeed and one which causes us to wonder if we could earn sufficient in 32 hours to provide for the pleasures or recreation of the time not normally spent in useful occupations. (Ask the farmers.)

At present the railway employees (non-operating branch) such as clerks, and those employed on inside jobs, though working 40 hours weekly, and having been granted increased wages a few years ago, are now being led by Frank Hall into another scrap with the companies for increased wages and fringe benefits, which it is reported will necessitate the companies spending another $90,000,000 a year. To meet this additional expense, freight rates will have to be increased, and so the ultimate consumer is forced to pay more to benefit only one section of the working force of the country.

—Fort Macleod Gazette

When Strikes Are Unlawful

Strike and lockout are regarded as the ultimate sanctions in industrial disputes. Under the law, unions are free to impose their demands for more on management by withdrawing the services of the membership in strike action. Management, for its part, is free to resist union demands by turning the key in the factory door and leaving the unionized employees to find other jobs or reduce their demands for "more" to reasonable proportions.

Rail transport, however, is unique, in that while rail unions may resort to strike action, the railways under the law and for understandable reasons, may not resort to a lockout. The railways, as common carriers, are required by law to maintain operations at all times. They cannot turn the key in the railway station or freight shed door.

It is, surely, a strange anomaly that the railways deprived by law of the ultimate sanction of the lockout in an industrial dispute, should nevertheless be compelled to negotiate with unions which still enjoy the right of employing the ultimate sanction of strike action.

Nobody, least of all the railways would wish to see management vested with the power of lockout in an essential industry such as rail transport. By the same token, the right to strike is an anachronism which has no place in the rail industry, described recently by Prime Minister St. Laurent as "essential to our very survival."

Short Courses To Be Held

After encountering some difficulty in obtaining suitable speakers, which necessitated a change in the original plans, arrangements have been completed for district agricultural short courses. Excellent speakers on live topics have been procured.

Mrs. John Spring of Calgary, nee Marian Dixon, formerly District Home Economist of Red Deer is in charge of the ladies section of the program. A short time ago she met with ladies of the various districts to set up their program.

The Vulcan short course will be held on Monday and Tuesday, March 5th and 6th in the IOOF Hall. The Vulcan Chamber of Commerce are co-sponsors, and are commencing the meeting with a noon luncheon. An excellent after-dinner speaker has been obtained. The public are cordially invited to attend and take part in this very pleasant affair.

The Agricultural short course at Claresholm is being held in cooperation with the Argyle Agricultural Society on Wednesday, March 8th. The various local committees in charge of arrangements have made a special effort to obtain well qualified speakers to deal with timely subjects having a broad interest to farmers generally. We feel that you will find the topics selected helpful. Plan to attend your local agricultural short course now. Watch your local paper for further details.

MAJORVILLE

When the weather moderated at the first of the week everyone hoped it would last for a while but by Thursday it was back to old man winter again. Altho' it has been a cold winter it has been an open one as far as being able to get out is concerned, that is until Friday of this week and an easterly wind was blowing and drifting snow so roads became blocked until the snowplow gets out this way. Remember the time when the only way to get out after a drifting wind was with the shovel and the strong man behind it? Those were the good old days we hear so much about once in a while.

Two weeks ago Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Greaves were Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Henry, Bruce, Gene, Carol and Francis Winch. Then last Sunday guests were Mr. and Mrs. Will Francis, Bill and Lee and Mr. and Mrs. M. Clemmons.

Mrs. Hap Winch was confined to bed for a few days during the week, a victim of the flu. Fay Barstch was also a victim of the bug and was out of school for a day or two.

Recent supper guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Umscheid were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Heather and Joanne.

A number of folks of the district attended funeral services in Vulcan on Thursday for the late Roy Allen.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Umscheid and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Clemmons visited at Champion on Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Burton Hingley.

There isn't much news this week. The phones are not working very good, they seldom do after a wind and it may be that folks got their visiting done during the festive season.

Alex Hagg braved the storm on Thursday to go to Brooks for chiropractic treatments but on the way home decided to stay overnight in Cluny as by that time it was really snowing and blowing. He arrived at the store on Friday and we hope he made it home okay from there.

(The foregoing was prepared for last week but our lane was drifted in so badly it was late Sunday evening before we were able to get out, and no one went to town.)

The mail service we had when the CPR carried it left a great deal to be desired, but now it is deplorable. The outgoing mail leaves Milo on Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 8 a.m. The incoming mail comes in Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 5:45 p.m. Why the mail can't go out on the truck that brings it in is something no one seems to be able to figure out. At Majorville it is, if anything, more confusing. There the mail days are the same as they always were, namely Tuesday and Friday. That means if the mailman does not make an extra trip or two the mail waits over in Queenstown for days. Its time something in the way of reasonable service was instituted. After all, we are living in the days when men talk of going to the moon, not in the day of the stage-coach.

The blizzard conditions of last week left the roads badly drifted, and travel was at a standstill until the snowplow came through on Sunday evening. This is the first time this winter that roads were really blocked. Driveways were blocked and for those who are not on a school van-route it was shovel or stay home. Bob Deltz hooked up the community blower and made the rounds of the neighbors and cleared the lanes and highways. So now we are all ready for the next big blow.

Mr. and Mrs. George Heather and Joanne went to Calgary on Friday with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Don Gordon of Cluny, to attend the Ice Capades Show.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Clemmons and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Umscheid were Sunday supper guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Umscheid.

Hap Heather and Harvey Godkins went to Vulcan on Wednesday to participate in the Elks bonspiel. We didn't know there were elk in our neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Alf Heather were visitors to Lomond on Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hostetter.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Winch recently visited with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Francis at Shouldice.

ARROWWOOD

Mrs. V. Culp and Mrs. F. Setters were hostesses to a Stanley party on Monday evening which was well attended. Demonstrator for Stanley was Mrs. Cockey of Calgary.

The Arrowwood Booster Club held their regular meeting on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. F. House. Further discussion and plans were made for the Banquet and Amateur Show coming up. It was voted to purchase a new microphone to be placed in the hall. Hostesses were Mrs. J. Beagle, Mrs. Zohursky, Mrs. Board and Mrs. Jacobson.

Mrs. Bill Hughes was hostess to a Ronald party on Thursday evening, and Mrs. D. Williams entertained at an Avon party with Mrs. T. Beckner from Milo demonstrating.

Mrs. Sarah Oldfield and C. Duncan left Thursday where they will spend the next two weeks visiting their sister in Wenatchee, Wash.

Don't forget—If you can sing, dance or play an instrument—enter the Annual Amateur Show to be held March 16. Phone your entries to Mrs. Williams, No. 32, of Freda Setters, No. 42, before March 5th.

The local association of Guides and Brownies are holding a Valentine Tea and Bake Sale, Feb. 11 in the United Church basement.

The Juvenile hockey team played their first and only game in the Alberta Amateur Playoffs on Thursday night against High River and were defeated. On Friday they played against Vulcan on home ice and won with a score of 9-2.

We were sorry to hear of the death in Calgary of Mrs. Neil McColeman, formerly of this district. We extend our sympathy to the family.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Magnusson and girls of Armada were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken MacLean and family of Queenstown were Sunday visitors at the home of Mrs. Ruth Beckner.

The FWUA held their regular meeting on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Leigh Williams. It was decided to show the Parade Pictures on February 23rd in the UFA Hall. Following the business meeting lunch was served by hostesses Mrs. Bert Williams and Mrs. Tabert.

The annual hall board meeting will be held in the Community hall, February 20th.

MILO

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Dishaw left Tuesday for a month's holiday in California.

Friends of L. Phillips will be sorry to hear he is a patient in the Vulcan hospital.

A farewell party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Desharnais was held in the hall last Wednesday evening. After a social evening of contests and dancing, Charlie Carson presented Mr. and Mrs. Desharnais with a gift from the community. Mr. and Mrs. Desharnais will leave shortly for Champion where Mr.

Desharnais will be station agent.

The Ivan Winch and Earlen Anderson curling teams defeated Mossleigh & brought back to Milo the Phillips Cup.

In a Junior hockey game at Mossleigh last week David Hutchinson of Queenstown suffered a broken wrist.

Bea Thomson, App Kishka, Elvira Page, Gladys Bittorf, Phyllis Gore, Lil Peterson, Billy Sukut and Irene Crabb attended the Vulcan Ladies' Spiel last weekend.

MOSSLEIGH

Mossleigh-Blind Creek W.A.

The Mossleigh-Blind Creek Women's Association held their February meeting in the church on Wednesday. Mrs. Elliott led the devotional. Roll call was answered by an article for the bazaar, as the attendance was low, not many articles were brought in. Mrs. Brassard has kindly offered to look after the bazaar articles.

A Bake Sale is planned for Feb. 10 and if this is a success, more sales will be planned, so ladies, bring something to sell and the gents may buy. Bazaar articles will be available also.

An Easter Tea is planned for Thursday, March 29. The W.A. are planning to sponsor the Cancer Drive and have asked for a 'Free Cancer Show' for April 5.

After the meeting, a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. J. Leslie and Mrs. H. Leslie Jr.

Milo Junior boys played hockey in Mossleigh Sunday. The game was tied in the second period, because a Milo boy had the misfortune of breaking his arm. The score was 2 to 1 for Mossleigh.

A number of people from Mossleigh motored to Calgary Thursday to attend the funeral of little Lynda Strong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Strong.

QUEENSTOWN

Ladies Aid

At the January meeting of the Ladies Aid it was decided the new roll call for 1956 will require that each member turn in a finished article for the Fall Bazaar.

The bazaar material has been received and anyone wishing to do any sewing, etc. can obtain print for aprons, etc. at Mrs. McCord's.

Mrs. Truman, the hostess, served a very delicious dessert lunch. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Lahd at 2:30.

We are glad to hear that J. McLaughlin is convalescing nicely after his recent operation.

Miss Audrey Bushell has returned to work after being ill at home for a week. Others on the ailing list includes Maurice Edwards, Geo. Elder and Linda Daw.

W. McLean of Devon was a visitor in the village during the week. Mr. and Mrs. Bushell, Audrey Bushell, Sheila Nelson, Art Nelson, Bob Fitzpatrick, Charles Pryce, Eugene Bushell, Emzly Wyrick and June Nelson were among those who attended the Ice Capades at Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. Don McCord and family were recent visitors in Calgary.

Miss Barbara Hutchinson and friend of Calgary were weekend visitors with Barbara's mother.

At the Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion meeting on Thursday, Tom Daw, Legion president, installed the 1956 officers. The members are meeting on Wednesday to work on a new project. Mrs. Stole's membership was accepted. Eight members were present at the meeting. Five dollars was donated to the Restroom in Vulcan to purchase a wall mirror. At the close of the meeting lunch was served by the Legion members.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Dawson and infant son of Parkland spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Edwards.

Don't forget the Amateur Night in Queenstown, Feb. 24, at 7:30 P.M.

W. I.

The February meeting of the Queenstown Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. S. Brown Thursday, Feb. 20 with 11 members and two visitors present. Mrs. S. Spokes was enrolled as a new member.

It was decided to send a $5.00 donation to the Ladies Restroom in Vulcan. Final arrangements were made for an Amateur Program on Feb. 24th. The W.I. will canvass for cancer again with Mrs. G. Elder in charge. Mrs. D. Lahd gave an interesting paper on school textbooks.

Mrs. S. Brown gave an article on press reporting. The birthday draw was won by Mrs. G. Elder.

Mrs. G. Elder and Mrs. N. Truman served a lovely lunch.

The best way to save face is to keep the lower part closed.

With The District Agriculturist Hugh Michael

Interest in Treeplanting Increases

During 1955 over 50 farmers ordered 54,229 trees through this office, as compared to slightly more than 15,000 trees ordered the year previous. Trees ordered were mainly green ash, caragana, Manitoba maple, lodge pole pine, white spruce, willow, poplar, Colorado blue spruce and a few ornamental types for hedges, and inclusion with the farm shelterbelt.

It is good to see this interest, as it indicates a change in attitude, which was so prevalent throughout Western Canada during the earlier years of settlement. Farmers are now building, and planning on a more permanent basis. Agriculture out of necessity must be a permanent industry, and as such requires some long term planning not only of shelterbelts and homes, but of the farm business and actual farm operation as well.

Free trees are available upon application. They should be applied for a year in advance of the planting time in order to be sure of obtaining the kinds desired. Colorado blue spruce are one of the best coniferous trees for planting in this area. At the present time the supply is rather limited which necessitates early application. Last fall, and this winter we have had a number of applications for Colorado Blue Spruce for planting next spring, but could not accept the applications, as the supply of this particular tree for 1956 was exhausted. Additional supplies will be made available for 1957 planting, however, they should be ordered at an early date.

All applicants who have ordered trees for planting next spring will be mailed a copy of the recently published leaflet entitled 'A Guide to Successful Tree Planting.' This leaflet is well worth reading by anyone who anticipates planting any number of trees, as it contains many helpful ideas about the subject.

Those having established shelterbelts and ornamentals may be interested in protecting them from rabbit damage. With our present snow cover and cold weather rabbits may cause more damage than ordinarily. A satisfactory repellent may be prepared by using Black Leaf 40, Arason, Arason SF-X or Terason 75. Black Leaf 40 is the cheapest, and most readily available. It may be prepared by adding 1 gallon of asphalt water emulsion to 1 1/2 gallons of water. Add 1 pound of household detergent and mix until smooth. Add 1 quart of Black Leaf 40 and mix thoroughly. One gallon of this repellent will brush coat 100 trees 1 inch in diameter. If the material is to be sprayed on, it should be put through a fine screen first. A gear pump sprayer should not be used.

as the action of the gears breaks down the emulsion.

Mulching Trees On The Prairies

Comparatively results of three years' investigations at the Forest Nursery Station, Indian Head, Sask., indicated that proper mulching of trees may be a satisfactory method of establishing windbreaks, spaced 4 x 4 feet, under certain prairie conditions.

Data obtained during the growing seasons of 1949, 1950 and 1951 indicated that mulching of trees grown since 1942 at the Station, in belts 4 x 4 feet, tended to increase the water content of twigs. This would increase their possibility of escaping drought injury. The effect of mulches appeared to be more pronounced during seasons with subnormal amount of precipitation.

During the relatively dry periods of each growing season a greater amount of available moisture, and a lower temperature, were found in the surface soil of the root areas of trees under mulch as compared with those not mulched. This would suggest that the increased water content of twigs taken from trees that were mulched, could to a considerable extent be due to the insulating effect of mulch and its preventive influence from excessive losses of moisture by evaporation. The possibility is not overlooked that mulches may also moderate excessive absorption of water by root systems because of possible poorer aeration of soil.

Results of these investigations have also indicated that the effects of mulching appeared to be more pronounced following more prolonged and lighter application of artificial mulch as compared to heavier application—but of shorter duration.

It is of considerable importance to note that no evidence was found to indicate that the various mulch treatments delayed the maturity of the twigs during the growing season.

Proper control of rodents is essential however, if mulching is to be used successfully.

Seed Cleaning Plant

The secretary of the Blackie and District Seed Cleaning Association has again drawn to our attention the urgent need of listings of grain to be cleaned, how much and what varieties. Also needed is an approximate date when it is convenient for the parties concerned to deliver the grain to the plant.

Such a listing greatly increases the efficiency of the plant as grains of one kind can be cleaned without extra work of changing screens, etc., and loss of much time.

The plant is working long shifts daily and it is urged that shareholders and farmers submit such lists so that those at the plant may give quicker service.

HOW TO GROW HAIR TO BE EXPLAINED BY EXPERT

INTERNATIONALLY KNOWN TRICHOLOGIST
 TO HOLD CLINIC IN VULCAN
 Offers Written Guarantee

(By Jack MacDonald)

TORONTO, Ont. (Special)—"When in the world will people realize that there is no need for baldness," says B. Gagnon, Director of the Dominion Hair and Scalp Institute of Canada, in an exclusive interview today. The trichologist told of many instances of successful treatment of loss of hair and emphatically states that the fear of baldness can be banished for good.

The trichologist further explained: "No man need be bald or look prematurely aged because he is losing his hair. This stigma of baldness need not affect his business and personal life. Science has shown that with correct treatment you can prevent baldness; turn colorless fuzz into healthy growing hair and look youthful again."

CLINIC TO BE HELD AT THE DOBBS HOTEL THIS WEEK

You are invited to see this modern method of home treatment for the hair, demonstrated at a free clinic to be held between 1:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. on Saturday, February 11th. B. Gagnon, Trichologist, will outline how this treatment achieves healthy growth. Each individual is private—there is no cost or obligation for advice given.

"There is always a reason for baldness," continued this internationally known authority. If a scalp is infected with dandruff, excessive oiliness, or extreme dryness, hair simply cannot grow. The scalp that is exercised will produce healthy hair—and hair and scalp hygiene should be taught to children. If this were the case, baldness would be a rarity today."

HEREDITY ALONE IS NOT THE CAUSE OF BALDNESS

"The belief that baldness is hereditary is not founded on facts. Science has proven it false. No one need be bald because baldness runs in the family, but it is true that some families tend to have unhealthy scalps."

The purpose of the Dominion Hair and Scalp experts is to teach the correct way to strengthen and nourish the weak scalp into a healthy vigorous condition. At each private examination a hair and scalp analysis, together with a diagnosis of the disorder is made. If there is any fuzz at all they can restore a healthy scalp condition and the hair will grow normally again as nature intended. Should there be cases where baldness is beyond help, these experts frankly tell the person the truth. All those accepted for treatment must be satisfied. If they are not delighted with the results at the end of sixty days any money which has been invested in the treatment will be gladly refunded.

If you are worried about your hair call at the Dobbs Hotel between the hours of 1:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. on Saturday, February 11th. The public is invited. Free examinations are private and the clinic is open to both men and women.

FARM ADVERTISING

I have been reading the advertisements lately, because there are many lessons to be learned from them. They give a reliable picture of our living standard, they tell of our inventiveness, and a regular study of them gives a man a knowledge of current values. It seems to me that in high school, at the very latest, young men and women should begin to read the ads. Then they would not be such Babes in the Woods when they are ready to set up their own homes or step into commerce. There is some good advertising being done today, and some that is quite poor.

The poorest advertising, in my opinion, is that which is aimed at the farmer these days. So much of it seems to be written by city men who don't know farm language. Radio station announcers too, often have strange notions of how farmers talk.

There is a farm language. But it is not Hillbilly stuff such as, "Howdy folks . . . I reckon you'll want to snap up the bargains I'm a-gonna-tell you about . . ." In my opinion, that kind of an advertiser is a-gonna waste his money! And that announcer is a-gonna get a punch in the nose some time of being talked at as if he had just stepped out of the Ozarks.

Good farmers, like good mechanics or businessmen, do have a language, a vocabulary that suits the farming business. To see the farmer's point of view, advertising writers ought to visit farms and talk with farmers. They would soon get better results from their advertising.

Not long ago a big Canadian corporation ran a campaign in all the weekly newspapers in the country about a new kind of tractor fuel. I will bet dollars to peanuts that the campaign brought wonderful results. The ads talked the farm language, straightforwardly, business-like. There was no corny mention of Ma and Pa or the Folks out there . . . The farmers were addressed as businessmen, which they are. The advertisements dealt with farm facts, proved that more profit could be made on the farm by using this particular product.

Our competitive enterprise economy works best when production and consumption are high. Good advertising plays a big part in the latter. It hurts to see it misused. All advertisers who aim at the farm market would do well to remember that the farmer ain't a hillbilly—he's a businessman.

It's a better life for Norman Tyndall

To learn how farming has been revolutionized in modern times, listen to Norman Tyndall, of Richmond Hill, Ontario.

"Nowadays, one man can produce as much food as eight men could — less than a generation ago," says Mr. Tyndall. "Machines like the newest tractor, balers and combines have lightened our job tremendously. And of course, agricultural science is adding to our know-how with results that can be seen in fields all over the country."

As Mr. Tyndall knows, there have also been important developments in life insurance — which help him as a family man.

Today, for instance, there is a wider choice of life insurance plans than ever before. So men like Mr. Tyndall have a more flexible way of meeting their own families' special needs — needs that keep changing over the years. The life underwriter who serves people today is a key man in this planning. And he, too, has changed. Modern training methods have made him a more efficient counsellor on the many different uses of life insurance.

THE FARMERS OF OUR DISTRICT

These are the men who are the world's greatest gamblers. They spend a lot of money on seed and on cultivation of the soil each year and sometimes get no return on their money.

Today a farmer has to be an agricultural scientist, mechanic, good business head, financier and have many other abilities to make a go of his farming operation. The past few years, with the severe quota system, his pay cheques are far apart and not too large, out of which he has to maintain his home and supply all necessities for his family, besides meeting all his farm operating expenses.

Congratulations are in order for these men and here's wishing you a 20-bushel quota next year.

I Am the Empty Pew

I am the empty pew.

Sometimes I am just in front of you, sometimes beside you at church on Sunday morning.

I am dedicated to usefulness, but I am useless.

I want to be filled, but I am empty.

You have been inspired by worship, but I cannot pray.

You have been uplifted by music, but I cannot sing.

You have been strengthened by the sermon, but I cannot hear.

You have shared in the warm Christian fellowship, but I cannot respond.

On Sunday mornings I wonder: Where is your neighbor, whom the sermon might strengthen; where is your son or daughter to whom the service might open new vistas of life's meaning; where is the stranger who needs the warmth and friendliness of the church but knows only loneliness in your town?

I, too, am lonely. Why don't you help fill me?

It costs nothing—just a kindly word of invitation—and that will make the service more inspiring, the sermon more stimulating, the fellowship wider, the atmosphere more congenial.

I am the empty pew.

Seeding Down The Low Spots

R. W. Peake
(Lethbridge Experimental Farm)

Throughout Western Canada, in both the dry and irrigated areas, there are many low spots which are subject to spring flooding for periods ranging from 3 to 10 weeks. In too many cases these areas are of little or no value. As farm land they are unsuitable, as they seldom dry up in time for seeding with the rest of the farm. When left as hay land they grow up to plants that lack in food value and palatability. Properly handled, many of these areas can be seeded to grass that will provide a permanent hay field. This is one time of the year that these low spots can be seeded successfully.

Grasses differ greatly in their ability to withstand flooding. In tests conducted at Lethbridge a number of these grasses have survived two months of flooding without injury. These are as follows: Reed canary grass, redtop Timothy, Alta fescue, and the tall wheatgrass. Of these, Reed canary grass is one of the most suitable as it produces an abundance of leafy growth that makes a fair quality hay. It also has some tolerance for alkali. In drier years it makes a fair type of pasture, particularly if it is kept grazed down.

Brome and creeping red fescue will not survive excessive flooding, but will maintain fair growth for periods ranging from 4 to 6 weeks. Orchard grass does not thrive under wet conditions and will not maintain good growth for more than 2 weeks under flooding. It is much like alfalfa in this respect. Because of this inability of orchard grass to survive flooding, good drainage on irrigated pastures containing this grass is essential.

At this time of the year low lying areas are dry. Seed canary grass can be drilled directly into these areas now and the seed will not germinate until next year when these spots are drying up. Eight pounds of seed per acre will provide a solid stand for either hay or pasture. It can be readily seeded with a grain drill the seed being sufficiently heavy to feed through a grain hopper.

You'll never get indigestion from swallowing your pride.

The Advocate staff cannot make a house-to-house canvass for news every week, but we are always glad to have it phoned or handed in. We want all the news and are just as pleased to mention your guests or your visits as those of your neighbors—but maybe your neighbors co-operated with us in getting the facts. Phone your items in or drop them in at the office—as early in the week as possible.
